MAKE WHITE WOMEN FEEL SAFE

The National Race Council, which was called by J. B. S. Capponi, of St. Augustine, Fls., and others to organize and unify the race on all lines pertaining to its welfare, met at Nashville, Tenu., yesterday. Prof. W. H. Coun-

il, of Alabama, was elected tempoin which he spoke of the alarming frequency of violence toward women, and "We cannot stop to argue the nice points as to the cause of the coming of these incarnate fiends into a race bitherto absolutely free from them, nor have we time to plead that they are the trusted servants of our southern homes, nor can we stop to appeal from Judge Lynch to the majesty of the civil law, but we must stamp out the crime. Suf-ficient for us to know that these crimes are committed by negroes to make us one PRICE CLOTHIER & FURNISHER sackcloth and ashes.

"Let us restore that sense of security which white women felt fifty years ago in the presence of our fathers under any circumstances, amid the most forbidding environments. We must make the humblest white woman in the restored wildest part of our country. notest and wildest part of our country feel as safe in the presence of a negro as angelic Eva did alone with her Uncle Tom. Let us make the white women of all lands feel that our black arms are ever ready, backed by hearts as pure as truth, as guileless as babes, o defend their honor; that we are willing to thio wour black bodies between hem and their assai ants and shed our

"Tell it out so that all the world may hear that the negroes of this land will frown down, cry down, hunt down, and strike down this crime and these criminals until not one shall be these criminals until not one shall be left in all the land and a black face shall be a badge of truth, of peace, of protection to innocence."

CYCLED WITH ANOTHER'S WIFE-Dr. Edwin Friedenburg went bicycle riding with pretty Mrs. Hymen in New York on Tuesday. His wife did not know it. Mrs. Hymen was run down by a horse and buggy, driven by Harvey J. Glidden, father of Maud Adams, and was picked up with a broken leg. Without thinking, Friedenburg had Glidden arrested, and so his wife found it out. The case came up in the Har-lem Police Court Tuesday but was adjourned, as Mrs. Hymen and Mr. Glidden were still too ill to appear. Dr. Friedenburg was there. So was his wife. She didn't speak to him or recognize him in court, but she looked

A TERRIBLE DEATH .- A dispatch from Dwale, Va., says : Little Trigg, the twelve-year-old son of James Doron, of Dickenson county, met a sad death on Thursday. The little fellow was hauling wood with a horse when the animal got into a hornet's nest and ran away when the hornets began to sting it. away when the hornets began to sting it.
The boy became entangled in the chains, and his body was mangled in a frightful number, from the effects of which be died in a few minutes. He was a bright, intelligent boy, and the bereaved parents are almost distracted with griff at their less. grief at their loss.

A Valuable Prescription. Editor Morrison of the Worthington, Ind., "Sun," writes: "You have a valuable prescription in Electric Bitters, and I can cheerfully recommend it for Constipation and Sick Headache, and as a general system tonic it has no and as a general system tonic it has no equal."
